

Fresh Bread

I now have my bakery in operation and bake each day at four o'clock, which means you can get fresh bread and rolls at that hour. We use the best flour we can get and feel that we turn out bread that has no superior. Give me a trial.

T. M. RECTOR.

Mrs. M. J. Hale returned Wednesday from Dayton, where she was visiting her brother, J. W. Wyatt, and other relatives.

Remember the destitute of Russia, Next Saturday.

Paul Burnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Burnett, arrived home Thursday morning from San Francisco, Cal., where he was discharged from the navy at the close of his two-year enlistment term.

For drilling test holes and water wells see J. H. Graham, Pomona. 12-21-13t

John W. Patton was up from Watson Saturday looking after business and incidentally trying to make a chicken trade with Register S. C. Cline.

The Baptist church is the place clothing and shoes are received for the suffering Russians.

We are in receipt of the announcement of the marriage of Mr. Ernest Burnett to Miss Gertrude Baker, at Boise, Idaho, Sunday, January First. Mr. Burnett will be pleasantly remembered by many friends in this county and all will join in wishing him and his fair bride a long and happy wedded life, with just enough of the cares to render them most happy.

Miss LaRue Davis, of Chattanooga, Tennessee, only weighed 76 pounds. After taking three bottles of Tanlac she now weighs over 100 pounds and is enjoying the best of health. Craig's Pharmacy.

We are in receipt of a copy of the Parma, Idaho, Review, which states that J. E. Burnett and son, E. S. Burnett bought the stock and fixtures of a general merchandise firm at that place. They opened for business Saturday, January 14. The long experience of these men in the mercantile business here, coupled with the active experience the younger Burnett had after going to Boise, Idaho, is ample insurance that they are well qualified to make a pronounced success of the business. It would seem probable that the Burnett family will move from Boise, their present home, to Parma. Their many friends here will wish them abundant success.

ESTRAYED—One white year-old steer, one red three-year-old steer, marked with crop and overbit in the right, and under halicrop in the left. Will pay for information leading to their recovery. Matthew Parsons, Creston. 1-25-2t

Do not forget to bring your clothing for the Russians, next Saturday.

Jas. Smith and W. D. Harrill are preparing to go into the chicken business on an extensive scale. Mr. Harrill has had much experience in the chicken business and proposes to devote his entire time to it. Their first move will be to set aside ten acres in the middle of which will be built the necessary buildings to accommodate the chickens. They plan to buy several hundred young chicks and hope to have as many as 500 laying hens by fall. They plan to grow practically all the feed necessary and hope to have a flock of 1,000 or more within a few years. They will handle the Leghorns and devote their entire energies to producing eggs for the market.

Two teaspoonsful of Tanlac in a little water taken three times a day just before meals will make you eat better, feel better, sleep better and work better. Craig's Pharmacy.

James Lancaster was her last week and bought a car of hogs. Part of them were feeders and a small part was fat hogs. They were shipped to his farm at Lancaster, Smith County.

The Women's Missionary Society of the Baptist church are planning to send a box of clothing to Russia. Any one wishing to donate wearable clothing or shoes will please send them to the church next Saturday.

NORTH CROSSVILLE

The school enjoyed a short visit from Rev. Robert Hall, of Jamestown, last Wednesday, who was enroute to Lebanon and Nashville.

Rev. Tedford came over from Crab Orchard and spent Friday night with the school boys, who were real glad to have him with them.

Frank Turner spent the week-end with home folks.

Holland Coppy, of Davidson, who has been housed in from measles since Christmas, was able to return to his school work last week.

Orton Miller re-entered school last week.

The young ladies literary society on last Saturday evening presented the play "The Old Maid's Convention" to the faculty and the young men's society—charging a small admission fee. Proceeds to be used for the benefit of the Russians. More than four dollars has been made up and more than $10 worth of fun was enjoyed by the young people. The old maids looked quite comical in their gaily colored costumes of the 18th century. After the play many games were enjoyed.

We of the North Side are anxiously awaiting the time to dawn when good roads are an assured fact for Cumberland county. But while we are rather handicapped in our travel we are by no means swamped. We do not have to imagine our selves gone into winter quarters, for most of us are sure enough there. But we can stretch our imagination a little farther and imagine ourselves in some secluded spot surrounded by every convenience and pleasure to while away the time.

perhaps off on some castle crowned island such as the St. Michael's Munt, little brother to Mont St. Michael, a little rocky islet 230 feet high and half a mile from shore off the Breton Coast, connected to shore by a natural causeway uncovered for about three hours at ordinary low tides. With south-east gales the island may remain an island for weeks, and with high seas be inaccessible even to boats. It is a most picturesque pile; its steep grassy slopes in spring time yellow with a million daffodils, crowned with the irregular jumble of chapel and castle and ringed about by a gleaming sea. It has much history, stood once in a forest and was pagan, Christianity and druidical. Has been tenanted by saint and sinner, soldier, monk and knight. Rearest to the heart perhaps, is the story of Cormoran, whom Jack-the-Giant-Killer slew, or so 'tis said. And if we keep our selves in imagination in such an intensely interesting castle the time will not hang so heavily upon our hands, the days will slip quickly by, and before we know it the cheery day of the daffodils, and the trill of the bright red cardinals will be with us, and we will have forgotten all about the inconveniences of the mud and slush of the winter times. Some of us are stretching our imaginations to the realization of a good Macadamized road for next winter—at least out to the new school building.

W. D. Harrill had the misfortune to loose a fine milk cow last week.

Prospects are good for a Rural free delivery on this road quite soon, and it will certainly prove a boon to all the citizens of the North Side. No greater blessing could come to the rural sections of our old Southland than a good Rural Free Delivery, Macadamized roads, and a good system of telephones. And until that time comes ministers will have to preach a long, long time, teachers will have to teach many, many years before there will be any material change for the better. XX.

Advertise the Manufacturer's Samples and Booklets

THE manufactured product is often its own best advertiser. For that reason the local merchant will frequently profit by featuring in his advertising samples and literature furnished to him by the manufacturer.

It is an easy thing to get your customers to ask for a free sample or booklet. Once they do, the chances are they will buy the product from you later.

And besides the increased sales, you get the increased prestige which the tie-up with the national advertiser gives.

Talk with your local publisher about this phase of advertising. He usually can give you good advice.
